

ADDITIONAL STUDY TIPS

1. Take good notes in your class lectures and textbooks
2. Review your notes soon after class
3. Review notes briefly before the next class
4. Schedule some time at the end of the week for a longer review
5. Pay particular attention to any study guides (key points, handouts, particular chapters)
6. Ask the teacher what to anticipate on the test
7. Pay particular attention just prior to the exam (points the teacher brings up during class)
8. Generate a list of possible questions
9. Review previous tests
10. Pay particular attention to clues that indicate a teacher might test for a particular idea when the teacher:
 - Says something more than once
 - Writes material on the board
 - Pauses to review notes
 - Asks questions of the class
 - Says, "This will be on the test!"
